Temple Student Government
Statement on the Overturning of Roe V. Wade
June 29th, 2022

On June 24th, the Supreme Court overruled Roe v. Wade and overturned 50 years of precedent and reproductive rights. Under this ruling, abortions will no longer be nationally protected and can be outlawed on a state-by-state basis. Several states have already enacted or are drafting legislation to outlaw and severely restrict abortion access. The Temple Student Government completely and unequivocally supports the right to safe, legal, and accessible abortions and reproductive healthcare. We stand with students of Temple University and all people in the ongoing fight for reproductive rights.

Outlawing abortions will increase maternal mortality, unsafe and nonviable pregnancies, and attack our rights to bodily autonomy. Marginalized communities will suffer the most from this ruling. Safe and legal abortions save lives and help millions of people. We encourage all students to get engaged, involved, and advocate for these rights that we value and exercise. We encourage every student to vote in the upcoming elections, as this election will determine the future of reproductive rights in Pennsylvania and the country.
